EDUCATION ABROAD GLOBULL AMBASSADORS

USF GLOBULL AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

As a part of the GloBull Ambassador's program, students have the opportunity to share experiences and knowledge with other students who are thinking about studying abroad, or those who have already decided and are in the process of preparing for their study.

In addition to quality conversations about overseas destinations and issues, students will get to experience the study abroad industry from the advisor's standpoint, network within the study abroad community, and add a great experience to your résumé!

Also, all students who successfully complete the program will receive an official certification of completion and be acknowledged at our end of year banquet...its kind of a big deal! All graduating seniors will be provided with commencement recognition (medals, sashes, etc.) to show off their study abroad experiences on USF's biggest stage.

The DEADLINE associated with Education Abroad
Administered Scholarships and USF Semester Exchange programs for SUMMER 2020 Semester is:
Friday, February 14, 2020

ATTEND

Semester Study

Fall and spring full semester programs allow students to truly integrate into their host culture and attend institutes, colleges, and universities overseas with other foreign and local students. Living options and program prices range from program to program as does the field of study available. In most cases, you may take courses from a range of majors. A semester abroad is an enriching experience allowing you to acculturate to your host country. It allows you the opportunity to get to know the people and culture and experience your discipline from a different perspective--one that can not only compliment your own understanding, but one you can bring back with you and use to supplement your USF education.

Summer Programs

USF summer programs range in length from 2 to 10 weeks during the May to August period. Program dates vary, but each are designed to maximize exposure to host cultures while providing an intensive academic study. In most cases, some lectures will be conducted on campus before and after the trip, as well as exams and projects with the faculty director on-site in their host country. In addition to USF faculty led programs, Education Abroad is partnered with many international partner institutes and universities that host our students for focused study. There is also the potential for experiential learning through service, teaching, and internships.

Short-Term Programs

Spring break and intersession short programs designed for students with limited travel time. Programs are highly intensive in nature and rely on a good deal of course work to be completed prior to departure. This work is then brought to life through on-site research and experiences.

INTERNATIONAL RISK AND SAFETY OFFICE - IRSO

Dear USF Student,

Are you planning on traveling internationally this year? The USF System International Travel Authority Policy #10-507 requires that all students register their student related international travel with the USF World Education Abroad Office or with USF Health.

Student-related travel is any international activity tied to an individual's status as an active USF student, regardless of the source of funding for the travel. This may include international travel related to a conference, a student organization, program requirement, elective, research project, service-learning project or study abroad. However, it does not include leisure travel.

Once you are registered, you will be enrolled in USF's mandatory International Health and Evacuation Coverage offered by United Healthcare Global, a leading industry provider. Insurance coverage is provided while abroad. You will automatically benefit from USF World's 24/7 International Assistance Line and International Risk and Security Office services. A nominal one-time charge is assessed for security and safety monitoring.

To learn more, contact USF World Education Abroad Office at 813-974-5474 or email GlobalTravel@usf.edu

With our best wishes for successful travel,
Dr. Roger Brindley
USF System Vice President, USF World

GLOBAL CITIZENS PROJECT

Calling all USF undergraduate students!

Do you want to study abroad? Do you enjoy community service? Do you want to do undergraduate research? Are you studying a second language? Do you hope to get a job after graduation or go to graduate school? Are you interested in what's happening around the world? Are you a transfer student seeking that "competitive edge?"

If you answered YES! to any of these questions, then you will want to learn about the USF Global Citizens Project and the opportunities available to students.

The Global Citizens Project is a university-wide initiative aimed at preparing you to succeed in today's interconnected world. But what is a global citizen and why should you want to be one? A global citizen can adapt and even thrive in all sorts of situations whether they involve diverse people, places, events, challenges, or opportunities. So being a global citizen means that you are flexible, knowledgeable about the world, collaborative, and with strong leadership skills. Employers and graduate schools seek these qualities in their candidates. The Global Citizens Project will help you develop these qualities.

PARTICIPATE

Being a global citizen can mean many things, but at the heart of it all is being able to engage meaningfully and effectively with diverse people, places, events, challenges, and opportunities.

For the purposes of the Global Citizens Project, USF has identified three primary qualities possessed by a global citizen:

- Global Awareness:

EXPLORE your role in the world. Prepare to change your world!

- Global Responsibility:

CONNECT with diverse people, places, and issues. Live beyond your borders!

- Global Participation:

PARTICIPATE to make a difference locally and globally. Do something that matters!

PEACE CORPS PREP

USF's Peace Corps Ambassadors at The Boba House for a Story Slam.

Peace Corps and the University of South Florida have a partnership centered on an undergraduate program called Peace Corps Prep (PC Prep). Students who join the PC Prep program will combine targeted coursework with hands-on experience, building the competencies needed to be strong Peace Corps volunteers or other international development specialists.

PC Prep is an interdisciplinary program that provides students opportunities to hone their leadership skills, intercultural competencies, foreign language ability, and career readiness. Completion of the program will give students a competitive edge when applying for Peace Corps service or for jobs in the international arena. PC Prep graduates will be able to engage meaningfully and effectively with diverse people, places, events, challenges, and opportunities.

In order to complete the Peace Corps Prep program, students co-enroll with the Global Citizens Project (GCP). Undergraduate students build upon their global engagement across the university and community by attending 8 GCP-Approved Events, completing 2 GCP Certified Activities, and documenting their Personal Reflections. To complete the PC Prep program, they then select Sector Specific Coursework, document their Volunteer work, and complete a CV and a website profile to have the opportunity to then apply to Peace Corps after they graduate from USF.

COVERDELL FELLOWSHIP REFLECTION

USF PCGS Coverdell Fellow Brandi Murphy in Zambia

PCGS COVERDELL FELLOW, BRANDI MURPHY

By: Amanda Mbuya

Patel College of Global Sustainability student and former Peace Corps volunteer, Brandi Murphy, is a recipient of the Coverdell Fellowship. Coverdell Fellows are tasked with “furthering the Peace Corps mission” and working toward bridging the gap between American culture and cultures outside the United States.

Coverdell Fellows bring their past experiences into graduate programs and help increase awareness among students of the impact individuals can have on understanding and addressing global challenges. Fellows are also responsible for taking the knowledge they acquired from their overseas volunteer experiences and apply their skills to work for the betterment of underserved communities across the United States.

Murphy credits her professional and personal development, largely, to her Peace Corps volunteer experience she gained in rural Zambia. In Zambia, Murphy engaged in community development work which included helping women prepare meals for the village and working with subsistence farmers to improve crop productivity through innovative soil treatment and farming methods.

“I was planting seeds, literally and figuratively,” said Murphy. “My time in Zambia widened the scope of scales for how our interconnected world works, and, also, put into perspective my role in our global society.”

Murphy, a graduate of USF St. Petersburg, said that her undergraduate program and her Peace Corps field experience in rural Zambia helped her not only theorize environmental issues, but also, prepared her well for the research projects that she is currently engaged in as part of her Master’s degree program at PCGS. <https://www.usf.edu/pcgs/news/coverdell.aspx>

The Peace Corps Coverdell Fellows Program at USF is a Graduate Fellowship program awarding financial assistance to selected returned Peace Corps volunteers pursuing a master’s degree. All Coverdell Fellows complete internships in underserved communities in Tampa Bay while working with faculty supervision. To qualify for a Coverdell Fellow, applicants must have completed their Peace Corps service and meet the admission requirements of their specific College.

College of Public Health Fellows successfully completing the program will receive a Master of Public Health (MPH) or Master of Science in Public Health (MSPH).

College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Anthropology Fellows successfully completing the program will receive a Master of Arts in Applied Anthropology OR a PhD in Applied Anthropology.

College of Engineering, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering Fellows successfully completing the program will receive a Master of Science in Civil Engineering or a Master of Science in Environmental Engineering.

The Patel College of Global Sustainability Fellows successfully completing the program will receive a Master of Arts in Global Sustainability, with a concentration in Building Sustainable Enterprise, Climate Change & Sustainability, Coastal Sustainability, Entrepreneurship, Food Sustainability & Security, Sustainable Energy, Sustainable Tourism, Sustainable Transportation, OR Water.

College of Nursing Fellows successfully completing the program will receive a degree in the Accelerated Second Bachelor’s Degree program, and professional licensure as a Registered Nurse.

More information, eligibility requirements, and deadlines for each program can be found by individual College/Department.
